Frequently asked questions about your Plan.

Here are answers to questions you may have about the key features, benefits, and rules of the Cornell University Tax Deferred Annuity Plan (Plan 53074).

When can I enroll in the Plan?

Endowed and contract college employees who are on the University payroll with FICA deductions are eligible to enroll in the Tax Deferred Annuity Plan.

How do I enroll in the Plan?

Follow the instructions on page 2 of this Enrollment Guide to enroll in the Tax Deferred Annuity Plan.

When is my enrollment effective?

Your enrollment becomes effective once you update your information via Workday and set up your account with Fidelity.

How do I designate my beneficiary?

If you have not already selected your beneficiaries, or if you have experienced a life-changing event such as a marriage, divorce, birth of a child, or a death in the family, it's time to consider your beneficiary designations. Fidelity's Online Beneficiaries Service, available through Fidelity NetBenefits®, offers a straightforward, convenient process that takes just minutes. Simply log in to NetBenefits® at www.netbenefits.com/atwork > click on the Profile link > select Beneficiaries, and follow the online instructions. If you do not have access to the Internet or prefer to complete your beneficiary information by paper form, please call the Fidelity Retirement Service at 800-343-0860.

How much can I contribute?

Through automatic payroll deduction, generally, you can contribute 100% of your eligible pay on a pretax basis, up to the annual IRS dollar limit ($18,000 in 2017). If you will be at least age 50 in calendar year 2017, you may be eligible to contribute an additional $6,000 as a catch-up contribution, for a limit of $24,000. If you have at least 15 years of service with the University, you may be eligible to contribute an additional amount, up to $3,000 per year, up to a maximum lifetime benefit of $15,000.

You can request to change your contribution amount via Workday.

What is the IRS contribution limit?

The IRS contribution limit is $18,000 in 2017.

What are my investment options?

To help you meet your investment goals, the Plan offers you a range of options. You can select a mix of investment options that best suits your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. The range of investment options available through the Plan includes conservative, moderately conservative, and aggressive funds. A complete description of the Plan's investment options and their performance, as well as planning tools to help you choose an appropriate mix, are available online at Fidelity NetBenefits®.

What if I don't make an investment election?

We encourage you to take an active role in the Tax Deferred Annuity Plan and choose investment options that best suit your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. If you do not select specific investment options in the Plan, your contributions will be invested in the Fidelity Freedom K® Fund with the target retirement date closest to the year you might retire, based on your current age and assuming a retirement age of 65, at the direction of Cornell University. Please refer to the chart in the Investment Options section for more details. If no date of birth or an invalid date of birth is on file at Fidelity, your contributions may be invested in the Fidelity Freedom K® Income Fund. For more information about the Fidelity Freedom K® Fund options, log in to www.netbenefits.com/atwork.

How much should I save for retirement?

Fidelity's planning tools are designed to help you manage your assets as you plan for retirement. Simply log in to Fidelity NetBenefits® at www.netbenefits.com/atwork to access these tools.

What “catch-up” contribution can I make?

If you have reached age 50 or will reach 50 during the calendar year January 1–December 31 and are making the maximum plan or IRS pretax contribution, you may make an additional “catch-up” contribution each pay period. The maximum annual catch-up contribution is $6,000. You make catch-up contributions through payroll deductions, the same way you make regular contributions.

When am I vested?

All eligible employees are fully and immediately vested in their account balance under the Plan. Your account balance is nonforfeitable at all times.

Can I make withdrawals from my account?

Withdrawals from the Plan are generally permitted as follows:

Distributions

Normal Retirement:	Age 65
Early Retirement:	Age 55
Minimum Distribution:	Age 70½ and has not begun benefit
Death:	Paid to designated beneficiary
Other Termination of Employment:	Upon submission of withdrawal request

In-Service Distributions

Phased Retirement:	Available to tenured faculty and staff
Active Employee:	Age 59½
Minimum Distribution:	Age 70½ (optional)
Loans:	Available
Hardship:	Withdrawals only available for certain financial hardships
Disability:	Receiving University long-term disability benefits and/or receiving Social Security disability benefits

The taxable portion of your withdrawal that is eligible for rollover into an individual retirement account (IRA) or another employer’s retirement plan is subject to 20% mandatory federal income tax withholding, unless it is rolled directly over to an IRA or another employer plan. (You may owe more or less when you file your income taxes.)

If you are under age 59½, the taxable portion of your withdrawal is also subject to a 10% early withdrawal penalty, unless you qualify for an exception to this rule. To learn more about or to request a withdrawal, log in to Fidelity NetBenefits® at www.netbenefits.com/atwork or call a Fidelity Representative at 800-343-0860. The Plan document and current tax laws and regulations will govern in case of a discrepancy. Be sure you understand the tax consequences and your Plan’s rules for distributions before you initiate a distribution. You may want to consult your tax advisor about your situation.

Can I move money from another retirement plan into my account in the Tax Deferred Annuity Plan?

You are permitted to roll over eligible pretax contributions from another 401(k) plan, 401(a) plan, 403(b) plan, governmental 457(b) retirement plan account, or conduit individual retirement accounts (IRAs). A conduit IRA is one that contains only money rolled over from an employer-sponsored retirement plan that has not been mixed with regular IRA contributions. Call a Fidelity Representative at 800-343-0860 or log in to Fidelity NetBenefits® at www.netbenefits.com/atwork for details. You should consult your tax advisor and carefully consider the impact of making a rollover contribution to your employer’s plan, because it could affect your eligibility for future special tax treatments.

How do I access my account?

You can access your account online through Fidelity NetBenefits® at www.netbenefits.com/atwork, or call the Retirement Benefits Line at 800-343-0860 to speak with a Fidelity Representative or to use the automated voice response system, virtually 24 hours, 7 days a week.

How do I obtain additional investment option and account information?

The University has appointed Fidelity to provide additional information about the investment options available through the Plan. Also, a statement of your account may be requested by phone at 800-343-0860 or reviewed online at Fidelity NetBenefits®.

Target date investments are generally designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each investment's name. The investments are managed to gradually become more conservative over time. The investment risks of each target date investment change over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high yield, small cap and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates.

Investment Options

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a mutual fund prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

Alger Mid Cap Growth Institutional Fund Class I

VRS Code: 93891

Fund Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests at least 80% of its net assets in equity securities of companies that, at the time of purchase of the securities, have total market capitalization within the range of companies included in the Russell Midcap Growth Index or the S&P MidCap 400 Index, as reported by the indexes as of the most recent quarter-end. Both indexes are designed to track the performance of medium-capitalization stocks.

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Russell Midcap[®] Growth Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of medium-capitalization growth-oriented stocks of U.S. domiciled companies that are included in the Russell Midcap Index. Growth-oriented stocks tend to have higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values.
- The S&P[®] MidCap 400 Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of 400 medium-capitalization stocks.

American Beacon International Equity Fund Institutional Class

VRS Code: 23057

Fund Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets (plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes) in common stocks and securities convertible into common stocks (collectively, "stocks") of issuers based in at least three different countries located outside the United States. It primarily invests in countries comprising the Morgan Stanley Capital International Europe Australasia and Far East Index ("MSCI EAFE Index"). The MSCI EAFE Index is comprised of equity securities of companies from various industrial sectors whose primary trading markets are located outside the United States.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

Baron Asset Fund Institutional ClassVRS Code: 85160Fund Objective: The investment seeks capital appreciation through long-term investments primarily in securities of mid-sized companies with undervalued assets or favorable growth prospects.Fund Strategy: The fund invests for the long term primarily in equity securities in the form of common stock of mid-sized growth companies. BAMCO, Inc. ("BAMCO" or the "Adviser") defines mid-sized companies as those, at the time of purchase, with market capitalizations above $2.5 billion or the smallest market cap stock in the Russell Midcap Growth Index at reconstitution, whichever is larger, and below the largest market cap stock in the Russell Midcap Growth Index at reconstitution.Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Russell Midcap[®] Growth Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of medium-capitalization growth-oriented stocks of U.S. domiciled companies that are included in the Russell Midcap Index. Growth-oriented stocks tend to have higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 05/29/2009. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 06/12/1987, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

Cohen & Steers Institutional Realty SharesVRS Code: 48790Fund Objective: The investment seeks total return through investment in real estate securities.Fund Strategy: The fund invests at least 80%, and normally substantially all, of its total assets in common stocks and other equity securities issued by real estate companies. It may invest up to 20% of its total assets in securities of foreign issuers (including emerging market issuers) which meet the same criteria for investment as domestic companies, including investments in such companies in the form of American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), Global Depositary Receipts ("GDRs") and European Depositary Receipts ("EDRs"). The fund is non-diversified.Fund Risk: Real Estate is a cyclical industry that is sensitive to interest rates, economic conditions (both nationally and locally), property tax rates, and other factors. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Sector funds can be more volatile because of their narrow concentration in a specific industry. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Eagle Mid Cap Growth Fund Class R6VRS Code: 94201Fund Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets (plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes) in the equity securities of mid-capitalization companies. The fund will invest primarily in the equity securities of companies that the portfolio managers believe have the potential for above-average earnings or sales growth, reasonable valuations and acceptable debt levels.

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Federated Short-Term Income Fund Institutional Shares

VRS Code: 92494

Fund Objective: The investment seeks current income.

Fund Strategy: In pursuing its principal investment strategies, the fund invests in a diversified portfolio of fixed-income securities consisting of U.S. government and privately issued mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, corporate debt securities and U.S. Treasury and agency securities. At least 65% of the fund's securities must be rated A or higher by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. Its investment adviser seeks to enhance the fund's performance by allocating relatively more of its portfolio to the security type that the Adviser expects to offer the best balance between current income and risk.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Fidelity Freedom® 2005 Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 03020

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65 and plan to gradually withdraw the value of their account in the fund over time. Investing in a combination of Fidelity domestic equity funds, international equity funds (developed and emerging markets), bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that becomes increasingly conservative until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund - approximately 17% in domestic equity funds, 7% in international equity funds, 46% in bond funds, and 30% in short-term funds (approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year). Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease neutral asset class exposures by up to 10 percentage points for equity (includes domestic and international equity funds), bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term. The Adviser may also make active asset allocations within other asset classes (including commodities, high yield debt, floating rate debt, real estate debt, inflation-protected debt, and emerging markets debt) from 0% to 10% individually but no more than 25% in aggregate within those other asset classes. The Adviser may continue to seek high total return for several years beyond the fund's target retirement date in an effort to achieve the fund's overall investment objective.

Fund Risk: The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked, and foreign securities. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Fidelity Freedom® 2045 Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 03028

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65 and plan to gradually withdraw the value of their account in the fund over time. Investing in a combination of Fidelity domestic equity funds, international equity funds (developed and emerging markets), bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that becomes increasingly conservative until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund - approximately 17% in domestic equity funds, 7% in international equity funds, 46% in bond funds, and 30% in short-term funds (approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year). Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease neutral asset class exposures by up to 10 percentage points for equity (includes domestic and international equity funds), bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term. The Adviser may also make active asset allocations within other asset classes (including commodities, high yield debt, floating rate debt, real estate debt, inflation-protected debt, and emerging markets debt) from 0% to 10% individually but no more than 25% in aggregate within those other asset classes. The Adviser may continue to seek high total return for several years beyond the fund's target retirement date in an effort to achieve the fund's overall investment objective.

Fund Risk: The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked, and foreign securities. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option that gradually becomes more conservative over time and who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Fidelity Freedom® Income Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 03019

Fund Objective: Seeks high total current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of Fidelity domestic equity funds, international equity funds (developed and emerging markets), bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy of approximately 17% in domestic equity funds, 7% in international equity funds, 46% in bond funds, and 30% in short-term funds. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease neutral asset class exposures by up to 10 percentage points for equity (includes domestic and international equity funds), bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term. The Adviser may also make active asset allocations within other asset classes (including commodities, high yield debt, floating rate debt, real estate debt, inflation-protected debt, and emerging markets debt) from 0% to 10% individually but no more than 25% in aggregate within those other asset classes.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option and looking primarily for the potential for income and, secondarily, for share-price appreciation.

Fidelity Freedom® Index 2040 Fund - Investor Class

VRS Code: 02239

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65 and plan to gradually withdraw the value of their account in the fund over time. Investing in a combination of Fidelity domestic equity funds (including commodity funds), international funds (developed and emerging markets), bond funds (including treasury inflation-protected security funds) and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds), each of which (excluding the money market fund) seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index or market segment. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to an asset allocation strategy that becomes increasingly conservative until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Fidelity Freedom Index Income Fund - approximately 17% in domestic equity funds, 7% in international equity funds, 46% in bond funds and 30% in short-term funds (approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year). Ultimately, the fund will merge with Fidelity Freedom Index Income Fund. The Adviser may continue to seek high total return for several years beyond the fund's target retirement date in an effort to achieve the fund's overall investment objective.

Fund Risk: The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Index Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked, and foreign securities. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option that gradually becomes more conservative over time and who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Fidelity Freedom® Index Income Fund - Investor Class

VRS Code: 02216

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of Fidelity domestic equity funds (including commodity funds), international funds (developed and emerging markets), bond funds (including treasury inflation-protected security funds) and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds), each of which (excluding the money market fund) seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index or market segment. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable asset allocation strategy of approximately 17% in domestic equity funds, 7% in international equity funds, 46% in bond funds and 30% in short-term funds.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee and single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option and looking primarily for the potential for income and, secondarily, for share-price appreciation.

Fidelity® Balanced Fund - Class KVRS Code: 02077Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth consistent with reasonable risk.Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock.) Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- On May 9, 2008, an initial offering of the retirement (K) class took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the non-K, non-advisor class. Had K class expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Blue Chip Growth Fund - Class KVRS Code: 02078Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital over the long term.Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in blue chip companies (companies whose stock is included in the S&P 500 or the Dow Jones Industrial Average, and companies with market capitalizations of at least $1 billion if not included in either index). Investing in companies that FMR believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Normally investing primarily in common stocks of well-known and established companies.Fund Risk: The value of equity securities fluctuates in response to issuer, political, market, and economic developments. In the short term, equity prices can fluctuate dramatically in response to these developments. Different parts of the market and different types of equity securities can react differently to these developments. For example, 'growth' stocks can react differently from 'value' stocks. Foreign securities, foreign currencies, and securities issued by U.S. entities with substantial foreign operations can involve additional risks. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Fidelity® Equity Dividend Income Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02086

Fund Objective: Seeks reasonable income. The fund will also consider the potential for capital appreciation. The fund looks for a yield that exceeds the composite yield on the securities comprising the Standard & Poor's 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities. Normally investing primarily in income-producing equity securities that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation, which tends to lead to investments in large cap "value" stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.

The index contains both developed and emerging market securities.

Fidelity® Growth & Income Portfolio - Class K

VRS Code: 02089

Fund Objective: Seeks a high total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing a majority of assets in common stocks with a focus on those that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Potentially investing in bonds, including lower-quality debt securities, as well as stocks that are not currently paying dividends, but offer prospects for future income or capital appreciation.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.

Fidelity® Growth Company Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02090

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally invests primarily in common stocks of domestic and foreign issuers that Fidelity Management & Research Company (FMR) believes offer the potential for above-average growth. Growth may be measured by factors such as earnings or revenue. Uses fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors, such as adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Stock values fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies, and general market and economic conditions. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Foreign investments involve greater risks than those of U.S. investments. 'Growth' stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Fidelity® Growth Discovery Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02091

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in companies that FMR believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fidelity® Growth Strategies Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02076

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing in companies FMR believes offer the potential for accelerated earnings or revenue growth (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Focusing investments in medium-sized companies, but may also invest substantially in larger or smaller companies.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies, general market, and economic conditions. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies may be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign investments involve greater risks than those of U.S. investments. "Growth" stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Inflation-Protected Bond Index Fund - Premium Class

VRS Code: 02416

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of the inflation-protected sector of the United States Treasury market.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in inflation-protected debt securities included in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index (Series-L). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflation-protected debt securities to decrease. Interest payments on inflation-protected debt securities can be unpredictable. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of dividend distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds.
- Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

Footnotes:

- The Bloomberg Barclays U.S. TIPS Index is an unmanaged index designed to represent securities that protect against adverse inflation and provide a minimum level of real return. To be included in this index, bonds must have cash flows linked to an inflation index, be sovereign issues denominated in U.S. currency, and have more than one year to maturity, and, as a portion of the index, total a minimum amount outstanding of 100 million U.S. dollars.

Fidelity® Intermediate Treasury Bond Index Fund - Premium Class

VRS Code: 01564

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg Barclays 5-10 Year U.S. Treasury Bond Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of three to 10 years. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Bond funds contain interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall); the risk of issuer default; and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Treasury 5-10 Year Index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate public obligations of the U.S. Treasury with maturities between five and ten years.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.

Fidelity® International Discovery Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02093

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

- The Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Treasury 1-5 Year Index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate public obligations of the U. S. Treasury with maturities between one and five years.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.

Fidelity® Small Cap Index Fund - Premium Class

VRS Code: 02359

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of small-capitalization United States companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 2000 Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

 - The Russell 2000® Index is an unmanaged market capitalization weighted index measuring the performance of the smallest 2,000 companies in the Russell 3000 index.

Fidelity® Stock Selector All Cap Fund - Class K

VRS Code: 02101

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Allocating the fund's assets among Fidelity equity sector central funds that provide exposure to different sectors of the U.S. stock market. Through the sector central funds, investing in domestic and foreign issuers, and in "growth" and/or "value" stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. While the fund is diversified, the underlying sector central funds may be volatile because of their narrow concentration in specific industries.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
 - On May 9, 2008, an initial offering of the retirement (K) class took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the non-K, non-advisor class. Had K class expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Total Market Index Fund - Institutional Class

VRS Code: 02360

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a broad range of United States stocks.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index, which represents the performance of a broad range of U.S. stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund - Institutional ClassVRS Code: 02325Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

New York Life Guaranteed Interest Account

VRS Code: 72175

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide competitive yields and limited volatility with a guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. These guarantees are backed by the full faith and credit of New York Life Insurance Company.

Fund Strategy: Contributions to the Guaranteed Interest Account are invested in a group annuity contract issued by New York Life Insurance Company. Contributions to the contract are currently invested in a broadly diversified fixed income portfolio within New York Life Insurance Company's general account. The investments in the general account are intended to provide a stable crediting rate consistent with preservation of principal. The general account is invested primarily in a conservative array of securities and cash-equivalent investments in accordance with the investment restrictions of New York Insurance Law. The primary objective of the general account is to ensure that New York Life Insurance Company can meet its obligations to policyholders and contract holders.

Balances may be transferred into the Guaranteed Interest Account at any time.

Fund Risk: The fund is backed by a diversified portfolio of fixed-income assets held in the general account of the issuer. Guarantees are subject to the claims paying ability of the issuer. Restrictions or fees may apply to exchanges or withdrawals. The Contracts provide for the payment of certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value during the terms of the Contracts. In order to maintain the Contract issuers' promise to pay such withdrawals and exchanges at book value, the Contracts subject the fund and its participants to certain restrictions. For example, withdrawals prompted by certain events (e.g., layoffs, early retirement windows, spin-offs, sale of a division, facility closings, plan terminations, partial plan terminations, changes in laws or regulations) may be paid at the market value of the fund's securities, which may be less than your book value balance or may restrict withdrawals in these events.

Certain investment options offered by your plan (e.g., money market funds, short term bond funds, certain asset allocation/lifecycle funds and brokerage window) may be deemed by the Contract issuers to "compete" with this fund. The terms of the Contracts prohibit you from making a direct exchange from this fund to such competing funds. Instead, you must first exchange to a non-competing fund for 90 days. While these requirements may seem restrictive, they are imposed by the Contract issuers as a condition for the issuer's promise to pay certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value.

This annuity contract contains withdrawal charges and terms for keeping it in force. No restrictions or additional fees, including surrender charges, will apply to the amount you withdraw as a result of certain life events. Please see your certificate or contact Fidelity for more information.

Partial withdrawals or exchanges of up to 15.00% of your account balance may be made in any contract year without incurring contract surrender charges. Withdrawals or exchanges in excess of 15.00% may be subject to a surrender charge of up to 4.00 % of the amount of the excess withdrawal or exchange. Please see your certificate or contact Fidelity for more information.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who seeks a slightly higher yield over the long term than is offered by money market funds, but who is willing to accept slightly more investment risk.
- Someone who is interested in balancing an aggressive portfolio with an investment that seeks to provide a declared crediting rate that is reset on a periodic basis.

PIMCO Long-Term U.S. Government Fund Institutional Class

VRS Code: 93598

Fund Objective: The investment seeks maximum total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in a diversified portfolio of fixed income securities that are issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government, its agencies or government-sponsored enterprises ("U.S. government securities"), which may be represented by forwards or derivatives such as options, futures contracts or swap agreements. It may invest, without limitation, in derivative instruments, such as options, futures contracts or swap agreements, or in mortgage- or asset-backed securities.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio but who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

PIMCO Low Duration Fund Institutional Class

VRS Code: 93687

Fund Objective: The investment seeks maximum total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management.

Fund Strategy: The fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing under normal circumstances at least 65% of its total assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments of varying maturities, which may be represented by forwards or derivatives such as options, futures contracts, or swap agreements. "Fixed Income Instruments" include bonds, debt securities and other similar instruments issued by various U.S. and non-U.S. public- or private-sector entities.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Prudential Jennison Small Company Fund Class Q

VRS Code: 78155

Fund Objective: The investment seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of its investable assets in equity and equity-related securities of small, less well-known companies that the investment subadvisor believes are relatively undervalued. In deciding which stocks to buy, it uses a blend of both value and growth styles. The investment subadvisor currently considers small companies to be those with a market capitalization less than the largest market capitalization of the Russell 2500 Index at the time of investment.

Fund Risk: The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Prudential Total Return Bond Fund Class Q

VRS Code: 92935

Fund Objective: The investment seeks total return.

Fund Strategy: The fund will seek to achieve its objective through a mix of current income and capital appreciation as determined by the fund's investment subadvisor. It invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the fund's investable assets in bonds. For purposes of this policy, bonds include all fixed-income securities, other than preferred stock, with a maturity at date of issue of greater than one year. The fund may invest up to 30% of its investable assets in high risk, below investment-grade securities having a rating of not lower than CCC. It may invest up to 30% of its investable assets in foreign debt securities.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Strategic Advisers® Core Income Multi-Manager Fund

Fund Objective: The fund seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in investment-grade debt securities (those of medium and high quality) of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Investing up to 30% of assets in high yield and emerging market debt securities. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Implementing investment strategies by investing directly in securities through one or more managers (sub-advisers) or indirectly in securities through one or more other funds, referred to as underlying funds, which in turn invest directly in securities. Allocating assets among affiliated fixed-income funds (i.e., Fidelity funds) and non-affiliated fixed-income funds that participate in Fidelity's FundsNetwork, and non-affiliated exchange traded funds (ETFs) (underlying funds) and sub-advisers. Allocating assets among underlying funds and sub-advisers to achieve portfolio characteristics similar to those of the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Allocating assets among underlying funds and sub-advisers to attempt to diversify its portfolio in terms of different market sectors and maturities.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, liquidity risk, call risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Prepayment of principal prior to a securities maturity can cause greater price volatility if interest rates change. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) that may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The fund can invest in ETFs which may trade at a discount to their NAV. Fund of funds bear the risks of the investment strategies of their underlying funds.

Strategic Advisers® Emerging Markets Fund of Funds

VRS Code: 02400

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets (countries that have an emerging stock market as defined by MSCI, countries or markets with low- to middle-income economies as classified by the World Bank, and other countries or markets with similar emerging characteristics) and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets and in shares of other emerging markets equity funds. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Allocating investments across different emerging market countries. Implementing investment strategies by investing indirectly in securities through one or more other funds, referred to as underlying funds, which in turn invest directly in securities. Allocating assets among affiliated emerging markets funds (i.e., Fidelity funds) and non-affiliated emerging markets funds that typically participate in Fidelity's FundsNetwork, non-affiliated exchange traded funds (ETFs), and closed-end funds (underlying funds). Allocating assets among underlying funds to attempt to diversify its portfolio in terms of market capitalization, investment style, and geographic region. Allocating assets among underlying funds using proprietary fundamental and quantitative fund research, considering factors including fund performance, a fund manager's experience and investment style, fund company infrastructure, and fund characteristics such as expense ratio, asset size, and portfolio turnover.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. The fund can invest in ETFs which may trade at a discount to their NAV. Fund of funds bear the risks of the investment strategies of their underlying funds.

Fund short term trading fees: This fund has a Short-term Redemption Fee of 1.50% for fee eligible shares held less than 90 days.

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets.
- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

Vanguard Balanced Index Fund Admiral Shares

VRS Code: 45372

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of the overall U.S. stock market.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of two benchmark indexes. With approximately 60% of its assets, the fund seeks to track the investment performance of the CRSP U.S. Total Market Index. With approximately 40% of its assets, the fund seeks to track the investment performance of the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Float Adjusted Index.

Fund Risk: Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

Vanguard Federal Money Market Fund Investor Shares

VRS Code: 45481

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide current income while maintaining liquidity and a stable share price of $1.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests primarily in high-quality, short-term money market instruments. Under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the fund's assets are invested in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies and instrumentalities. It maintains a dollar-weighted average maturity of 60 days or less and a dollar-weighted average life of 120 days or less. The fund generally invests 100% of its assets in government securities and therefore will satisfy the 99.5% requirement for designation as a government money market fund.

Fund Risk: *You could lose money by investing in a money market fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Vanguard Growth and Income Fund Admiral Shares

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide a total return (capital appreciation plus dividend income) greater than the return of the Standard & Poor's 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests at least 65% (and typically more than 90%) of its assets in stocks that are included in the index. Most of the stocks held by the fund provide dividend income as well as the potential for capital appreciation. The advisors use quantitative approaches to select a broadly diversified group of stocks that, as a whole, have investment characteristics similar to those of the S&P 500 Index, but are expected to provide a higher total return than that of the index.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.

Vanguard Growth Index Fund Admiral Shares

VRS Code: 21443

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of large-capitalization growth stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the CRSP US Large Cap Growth Index, a broadly diversified index predominantly made up of growth stocks of large U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Vanguard Long-Term Investment-Grade Fund Admiral Shares

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide a high and sustainable level of current income.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests in a variety of high-quality and, to a lesser extent, medium-quality fixed income securities, at least 80% of which will be intermediate- and long-term investment-grade securities. High-quality fixed income securities are those rated the equivalent of A3 or better; medium-quality fixed income securities are those rated the equivalent of Baa1, Baa2, or Baa3. The fund's dollar-weighted average maturity is expected to fall within a range that is five years shorter than or five years longer than that of its benchmark index.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest dividends rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a potentially more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- The Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Long Credit Index measures the performance of the long term sector of the United States investment bond market, which as defined by the Long Credit Index includes investment grade corporate debt and sovereign, supranational, local authority and non-U.S. agency bonds that are dollar denominated and have a remaining maturity of greater than or equal to 10 years.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 02/12/2001. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 07/09/1973, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Vanguard Mid-Cap Index Fund Institutional Shares

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of mid-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the CRSP US Mid Cap Index, a broadly diversified index of stocks of mid-size U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation and, secondarily, dividend income.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The CRSP US Mid Cap Index targets inclusion of the U.S. companies that fall between the top 70%-85% of investable market capitalization.

Vanguard Small-Cap Index Fund Institutional Shares

VRS Code: 23466

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of small-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the CRSP US Small Cap Index, a broadly diversified index of stocks of small U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Vanguard Total Bond Market Index Fund Institutional Shares

Fund Objective: The investment seeks the performance of Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Float Adjusted Index.

Fund Strategy: Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Float Adjusted Index represents a wide spectrum of public, investment-grade, taxable, fixed income securities in the United States-including government, corporate, and international dollar-denominated bonds, as well as mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities-all with maturities of more than 1 year. All of its investments will be selected through the sampling process, and at least 80% of its assets will be invested in bonds held in the index.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties.
